

THE ANNUAL ALMANAC

Feng Shui & BaZi 2027

丁未

The Year of the Fire Goat — how the year turns, what it asks of you, and where to stand.

THONIN

FIRST ENGLISH EDITION · 五行 METHOD

CHAPTER TWO

2027: The Year of the Fire Goat

If 2026 was the fire, 2027 is the ground it leaves behind. The flame does not go out — it settles, banks down, and begins to warm the soil instead of consuming it.

Every year in this system carries two characters: a stem above and a branch below. 2027 is 丁未 — Ding Wei — yin Fire resting on the Earth of the Goat. Both halves are quiet, inward, yielding. Where 2026 was 丙午, yang Fire on yang Fire — a blaze doubled — 2027 is the same element turned down to an ember.

The relationship between the two years matters as much as the year itself. The Horse 午 and the Goat 未 form a six-harmony (午未六合) — they combine rather than collide. So 2027 does not arrive as a rupture. It arrives as a hand-off. Whatever 2026 set alight, 2027 inherits.

The year in one line. Fire generates Earth. What burned last year becomes ground this year — and ground is for building on, not for lighting.

What the elements say

Read the year as a balance sheet of the five elements and the shape is immediate: Earth commands, Fire fades, and Water is scarce.

ELEMENT	STATE IN 2027	WHAT IT GOVERNS
Earth 土	Commanding — the Goat branch, and Fire feeds it	Land, property, agriculture, construction, stability, the stomach
Fire 火	Fading — yin, spent, giving itself to Earth	Energy, visibility, technology, the heart
Water 水	Scarce — no Water anywhere in the pillar	Liquidity, rain, kidneys, communication, flow
Metal 金	Produced — Earth generates Metal	Gold, hard assets, precision, the lungs
Wood 木	Weakened — no Water to feed it	Growth, expansion, new ventures, the liver

The absence is as informative as the presence. A year with no Water in its pillar is a dry year — and dryness reads across every domain at once: literal drought, tight credit, thin liquidity, dehydration, and conversations that don't flow.

2026 asked: how far can I go?
2027 asks: what have I actually built, and will it hold?

Where that lands

Everything above is a description of a year, not yet of a world or of a person, and the rest of the book is the work of narrowing it. The next chapter takes this same element balance out to the scale of markets, harvests and weather. The three after that bring it down to your animal sign, the day you were born, and the rooms you live in.

Hold on to one sentence while you read them, because every specific claim in this book is a consequence of it: Earth commands, Fire fades, and there is no Water. A year that is heavy in the ground, spent in its brightness, and short of anything that flows.

© 2026 Thonin. Sample chapter from Feng Shui & BaZi 2027: The Year of the Fire Goat.
Traditional cultural guidance offered for general interest — not medical, financial, legal or investment advice.

Get the full 2027 almanac: thonin.gumroad.com